SEVERE GALES AT HOME.

LINER'S LUCKY ESCAPE.

OLD FISHERMAN'S HEROIC DEED.

(Special "Telegraph" News Service.)

London, Nov. 27. A gale blowing sixty miles an hour wrought considerable havoc last night.

All over the country, telegraph and telephone wires were down this morning. In London alone, 495 lines were affected, whilst 225 inland trunk lines were not working.

Shipping all round the East and South Coasts suffered severely, heavy seas being reported all along the Channel. The steamer "Dieppe" went ashore at Newhaven and was not refloated for four hours. A tug which went to her assistance was dashed against the breakwater and lost. The crew were saved.

LINER BREAKS LOOSE.

At Southampton, the Royal Mail Company's liner "Almazora," of 15,252 tons, broke her moorings in the Empress Dock. The vessel was blown towards the transport "City of Marseilles" whose chief officer was just in time to arouse the crew and place fenders to protect the ship. By this time, four tugs had come to the rescue and took the drifting liner in tow, but it was three hours later, after a terrific battle against the gale, that they were able to get her back to her moorings.

FINE RESCUE WORK.

Heroic rescue work was done by an old fisherman named Craig, 70 years of age, when a drifter with her herring catch was wrecked yesterday near Aberdeen. Three of the crew were seen to be clinging to the rocks some distance from the shore, an intervening reef preventing the throwing of a rope to them. Craig declared that he knew of stepping stones to the reef and he declined to be dissuaded from undertaking the perilous passage through the tempestuous seas. Seizing a rope, he scrambled from boulder to boulder, immersed at times up to the neck, and succeeded in reaching the reef. He then threw a rope to the marooned men, whom he succeeded in pulling, after great exertions, to the rock on which he stood. The rope was then thrown ashore and the three shipwrecked men and their gallant rescuer were hauled on to the beach. The submarine L-54 is reported to be aground.

THE EGYPTIAN SITUATION.

HOW PRESENT CRISIS HAS ARISEN.

(“Telegraph” Special Service).

London, Nov. 27. The British Government's case for the action now being taken in Egypt is supported by a number of allegations which hitherto have not been given much prominence.

These include definite charges of default on tribute money; the steady undermining of three high British officials—the Financial, Judicial, and Public Security Advisers,—whose business it is to safeguard the interests of foreign companies in Egypt; and the tampering with British railway officials to a degree that has rendered a great part of their work nugatory.

There have also been great difficulties over pensions and retirement of British officials in the Egyptian Government service. When these charges are considered in connection with the murders of British officers which have been going on since 1920, and with the recent mutiny in the Sudan fomented by Egyptian propaganda, it will be seen how untenable the position has become. In addition there was an unsolicited offer by the Government that various points of disagreement were outstanding since 1923. The need for a settlement of Anglo-Egyptian affairs had thus become urgent even before the Sirdar's assassination.

FRENCH VIEW EXPLAINED.

Paris, Nov. 27. A message from London says that the opinion expressed in certain French circles that League intervention in the Anglo-Egyptian crisis is desirable is not regarded as the views of the French Government. The latter has informed Mr. Balfour that it declines to do anything which might be construed as interference.

ANGLO-GERMAN TREATY.

POINTS OF NEGOTIATION.

(“Telegraph” Special Service).

London, Nov. 27. In connection with the negotiations for an Anglo-German commercial treaty, in which the only outstanding point is the 26 per cent. duty levied on German exports in accordance with the reparations settlement, the Germans complain that the present method of collection involves vexatious delays and impedes business relations. They have submitted a series of proposals for altering the machinery of collection, so that payment will be made by the German Government instead of by individual exporters. These proposals are being closely examined by British experts.

EUROPEAN SHOPLIFTER.

STILL OPERATING IN HONGKONG.

Theft from Messrs. Whiteaway, Laidlaw and Co.

It is believed that the European who recently visited local music stores and got away with goods stolen whilst the attention of shop assistants was engaged on other business, is still operating in Hongkong, for yesterday an almost identical case occurred, the victims in this occasion being Messrs. Whiteaway, Laidlaw and Co., Ltd.

It appears that shortly after tiffin time yesterday, a man, described as a "young European," made his way to the gentlemen's outfitting department of the firm named and asked to be shown some woollen sweaters. The assistant recognised him as a man who, some days previously, had requested that a particular sweater be placed on one side for him, as he had not sufficient money to pay for it at the time. This was done, and the "customer" was reminded of the fact yesterday. Thinking the assistant for having kept the particular garment for him, the European expressed his desire to see a selection of sweaters. Whilst these were being taken from the fixture, the "customer" had sauntered towards a glass case near the main entrance, on which were several boxes containing the sweaters he had been inspecting. Suddenly grasping two of these he made a hurried exit.

The manager of the department noticed the theft, and immediately gave chase, but by the time he had gained the street, the fugitive was long since running down Des Voeux Road in the direction of the King Edward Hotel. Turning under the verandah by Messrs. Wm. Powell's, he managed to elude his pursuer and was not seen again.

A description of the man has been given to the police, at least two of Messrs. Whiteaway's assistants being confident that they would easily be able to recognise the thief again. The value of the stolen sweaters is given in the police report as $12.

GERMAN BUDGET.

A DEFICIT DISCLOSED.

Berlin, Nov. 27. The Budget for 1925 has been submitted to the Reichstag. It shows a surplus of about 2-3 milliard gold marks. The revenue from the ordinary Budget is estimated at somewhere about 5,400 million gold marks, and the expenditure 2,600 million. —Reuter.

Berlin, later. It is officially explained that the Budget figures, as cable earlier, only relate to the revenue and expenditure of the Ministry of Finance, and do not include other departments. Complete figures are not available, but added to the ordinary Budget balances the extra ordinary Budget shows a deficit. —Reuter.

AGRICULTURE ASSISTED.

GOVERNMENT'S WELCOME OBJECT.

London, Nov. 27. A forward agricultural policy is foreshadowed in an announcement stating that the Government is convening a conference of landowners, farmers and workers, with Government co-operation, to recommend methods to maintain an increase of arable land and stimulate the maximum production of food. It declares the conference should aim at an addition of at least a million acres of arable land, and not give undue attention to production of wheat to the exclusion of livestock, dairying and other agricultural activities. —Reuter.

FUTURE OF TIBET.

THE CHINESE INFLUENCE.

SIR CHARLES BELL'S WARNING.

London, Nov. 27.

Sir Charles Bell's book "Tibet past and present," based on twenty years' official acquaintance and personal friendship with the Dalai Lama and leading Tibetans, do doated to the Dalai Lama, will be published shortly. Sir Charles Bell, discussing the British policy, urges Britain not to conduct Tibetan negotiations with China without the presence of a Tibetan representative. A Sino-Tibetan peace treaty should embrace reasonable boundaries for Outer Tibet, its autonomy, the exclusion of Chinese soldiers or any attempt at Chinese colonisation.

He advocates direct Anglo-Tibetan dealings on matters of mutual concern, such as reasonable facilities for British trade, and the maintenance of the existing frontier between Tibet and north-east India. Britain should prevent Chinese agents from entering Tibet from India until China and Tibet come to terms.

Sir Charles points out the financial difficulties at Lhasa, in view of the need for support of a new army, criticises the continued British insistence on free trade across the border, contending that Britain should agree to the Tibetan imposition of a customs tariff on moderate, clearly specified lines, thereby justice being given. Money should be found for Tibetan needs, which are also India's needs, for when Tibet acquires means of defence herself she defends India. He also, inter alia, considers that unless British troops be retained in India, and frontier policies remain under British control, Tibet will break away from her Indian environment, and Nepal, Bhutan and Sikkim are also not likely to continue in friendship with India but become unfriendly, and perhaps actively hostile. —Reuter.

SOVIET OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

referring to the abortive Anglo-Soviet treaty, said that if Britain eventually made fresh proposals the Soviets would not refuse to discuss them, but the negotiations already more were the maximum. The prospects of both countries necessitated the finding of a means for liquidating the Zinovieff letter incident, and establishing normal relations, but the Soviets were unable to admit the letter's authenticity. He declared that the resumption of Franco-Soviet diplomatic relations would enable them to regulate the whole nature of questions of foreign policy. Referring to the economic strength of the Soviet Union, he said there were no falling off in the economic revival two years hence they would no longer need to negotiate loans, because loans would be offered to them. —Reuter.

MOTOR FATALITIES.

UNKNOWN DRIVER "WANTED."

After knocking down a Chinese woman in Queen's Road West yesterday, the driver of an unknown motor-lorry drove away from the scene of the accident without rendering assistance to the victim.

In consequence of serious injuries, the woman was taken to the Government Civil Hospital, where she died last evening. The accident occurred at the junction of the main road with Fat Hing Street. The woman, who lived at No. 628 Canton Road, was 41 years of age.

The police are now searching for the driver, the number of whose lorry is not yet known.

ANOTHER DEATH. Another fatal accident caused by a lorry occurred yesterday morning on the Lai-chikok Road. A 14-year-old schoolboy was run into and killed by a motor lorry belonging to the Hongkong Engineering and Construction Company. The remains were taken to the Mortuary.

WORLD'S DRUG PRODUCTION.

NATIONS HAVE OPPOSITE VIEWS.

Geneva, Nov. 27. No decision was reached at today's sitting of the second Opium Conference, which heard the views of the Japanese, American, Uruguayan and Bolivian delegates. The last-named declined to agree to restriction of the cultivation of coca leaves, which he declared did not influence the cocaine market.

The Japanese delegate reiterated the necessity for a competent international organisation, independent of Government, to control the world's opium requirements.

The conference to-morrow will discuss the American suggestion that the production and distribution of raw opium and coca leaves be controlled, also a proposal to prohibit the manufacture and distribution of heroin. —Reuter.

TO-NIGHT'S SCOTTISH BALL.

'Twill BE A GRAND AFFAIR.

THE DECORATIONS AND OFFICIALS.

A visit to the City Hall this morning found preparations well ahead for the first big ball of the season, the Ball of the Hongkong St. Andrew's Society. Once again an army of workmen, under the direction of Mr. David Keith, and other helpers, have transformed the City Hall and Theatre Royal into a series of off-actively decorated and garlanded apartments, and when local Scotsmen and their guests assemble to-night it will be to find that the Ball of 1924 has been staged fully in accordance with the high past traditions of the function.

THE ENTRANCE HALL.

The main entrance is on the same lines as last year, representing a Highland Castle, with battlemented walls and arches. Above this will be a huge illuminated St. Andrew's Cross. The gentlemen's entrance is on the left and the ladies' on the right, this arrangement having been made in order to give the ladies more room than last year. The cloak room accommodation has been provided on ample lines, and there should be little delay at the busiest time. His Excellency the Governor and Party will enter by a special central entrance, this being an overgrown covered bower in which electric lights have been concealed. The entrance hall has been converted to represent a baronial hall, oak panelings, an open fireplace, and old-fashioned lamps, having been carried out by the Talkoo Dockyard staff. An innovation at the foot of the grand stairway is a large illuminated St. Andrew's Cross, this completely occupying the space between the two pillars. A card room has been provided on the left, the scheme here being blue and yellow with period lamps. The Library has again been utilised for "Auchtermuchty" and further card rooms.

IN THE THEATRE.

As one ascends the stairway one sees reflected in a big mirror on the first landing an illuminated Scottish thistle, draped with St. Andrew's flag; the mirror itself being draped with the Union Jack and White and Red ensigns. The entrance to the official supper table takes the form of a leafy bower illuminated with multi-coloured lights—a simple but effective arrangement. The official supper table is of horse-shoe design, the back of the stage being occupied by a big canvas painting of The Brig o' Doon, the work of Mr. J. Dineley, of Talkoo. The tables will be illuminated by small standard lamps having blue and white shades and embellished with St. Andrew's Crosses. The interior of the whole Theatre has been carried out in blue and white, the pillars having a series of St. Andrew's Crosses upon them. In its ensemble, the scheme is strikingly attractive, more especially as the colours are those of the Scottish flag.

THE TWO HALLS.

The two dance halls have also been decorated in the same blue and white colours, long streamers down the walls framing the various Clan shields. The feature of the shields this year is that all have been carefully checked and are now true to detail and colouring, and have been permanently mounted on lattice work. The feature of St. Andrew's Hall is a large Royal Scottish shield at one end, and (draped with St. Andrew's flag) an electrically illuminated St. Andrew's Cross at the other. In St. George's Hall there is the usual table and draped platform, and the usual table and draped platform, and the usual table and draped platform.

Robertson Shield, the being the tartan of Catefain Reid. In the anti-room is a portrait of King George, draped with the Union Jack, whilst the light refreshment room and corridors have all been treated in conformity with the blue and white scheme of the principal rooms. The usual palms and ferns have been freely employed, and the scheme as a whole is one on which the designers can be very heartily congratulated.

TELEGRAMS.

Telegrams have been sent today to all the usual outposts and to M. R. Sutherland (last year's President, now in London), these greetings reading:—"Hongkong Scots Send Greetings.—Reid, Catefain." A special telegram has been sent to Mr. D. K. Blair, the late Secretary, this reading:—"Will ye no come back again?" Many telegrams have been received during the day, including one from Messrs. Sutherland, Duncan and Blair from London.

Scott's well-known lines from "The Lay of the Last Minstrel" are printed on the inside, whilst the menu itself is to be catered for by the Hongkong and Shanghai Hotel, Ltd. is attractive and includes all the time honoured dishes. PARTNERSHIP CASE.

JUDGMENT FOR DEFENDANT.

Mr. Justice Gompertz yesterday afternoon gave his decision in the case in which the Fuk Shing Lee firm asked for a declaration that Lau Ping-nam was a partner in the Mee Sang Soap Factory Company.

Lo Ping-nam, the defendant, cross-examined by Mr. Fitzroy said that he considered himself fully justified in acting as he did, observing that he was appointed agent to act on behalf of Leong Shi and Lan Han-shi.

He signed the document when Chu Oi-kwong asked him, without consideration of the possible effects, recognising only that he had authority to act as he thought fit.

Witness admitted knowing that the property belonged to the firm, subject to the bill of sale.

It was suggested that the money shown as belonging to Leong Shi and Lo Han-shi was really his, but witness denied this and said the money was held separately.

Witness agreed that a book produced showed that his monthly subscription to the Chinese Chamber of Commerce was paid by the Mee Sang firm, and that there were many records of minor loans and expenses debited to him. These, he explained were set off against payments at the year-end. He denied ever having been on the books of the Mee Sang for salary.

The Cock's Head Ceremony.

In conclusion, Mr. Fitzroy said that Chu Oi-kwong, whose evidence was diametrically opposed to that of present witness, had stated his readiness to go to the ancestral tombs and go through the ceremony of "cutting off the cock's head," and he enquired whether witness was prepared to do so, to which witness replied that he was perfectly willing to do so.

Ho Ming, an assistant accountant in the Mee Sang firm gave evidence regarding the book previously produced and said it was used to check accounts. It contained a record of loans and small expenses to clerks and sometimes partners.

Witness described the uses of the various books kept by another and himself, and said they were looked away nightly in a box. Important matters were kept in a safe in the inner office. He had written the prospectus for a draft given to him by Chu Oi-kwong. He denied that he made out the list of account books at the order of Lo Ping-nam.

Leung Shi's Investment.

Cross examined by Mr. Fitzroy he denied ever having acted on behalf of Lo Ping-nam in the business, or taking orders from him. He wrote many private letters for him both at the office after hours and at his house. In the writing of the prospectus, the lease, and the list of books he acted always under the direction of Chu Oi-kwong.

Leong Shi, called next, described her investment in the Mee Sang firm at the urge of Lau Ping-nam. She was to receive 1% per month interest. She had received nothing for a considerable time and at attempts to regain her money were without success.

Mr. Alabaster addressing the Court reviewed the evidence and claimed that this was entirely a Chu action, and the Chu's in this action had proved themselves self-confessed perjurers and forgers. There was no evidence connecting defendant with the firm as a partner and he asked that the plea be dismissed.

The Verdict.

Mr. Fitzroy, emphasized the anomalous position of defendant in the Mee Sang firm. He had no

MURDERED TEA MERCHANT.

CASE AGAIN BEFORE COURT.

The case in which So Kam was charged with the murder of his master, a tea merchant, at 145 Connaught Road Central, on September 30th, again came before Mr. J. R. Wood yesterday afternoon.

Mr. T. M. Hazlerigg, Assistant Crown Solicitor, conducted the case for the Crown.

A Chinese detective gave evidence regarding the arrest of the defendant aboard the Honam on the morning of the 7th October, about half an hour before the boat sailed for Canton. Defendant was in a first-class cabin.

Evidence was given by two bank employees, showing that on the morning of the 2nd, two men called at the Bank of Canton, one of them cashing a draft for $1,000. The man who presented the draft handed the clerk a chop similar to the one affixed on the counterfoil of the draft. The clerk in this case could not recognise either of the men. On the 9th, an attempt was made to cash a draft for $500 at the Oriental Commercial Bank, two men calling at the Bank as in the other instance. The attempt was unsuccessful as the Bank required the presence of the depositor before making payment.

Chan Yau, a woman, said the defendant came to her on the 2nd, October and handed to her $1,000 in notes for safe keeping, and also four bank drafts which he asked her to burn. She refused and the defendant put the drafts away in a drawer. Defendant told her he would go to Canton and gave her his address.

The case was adjourned.

WEMBLEY NEXT YEAR.

WILL HONGKONG PARTICIPATE?

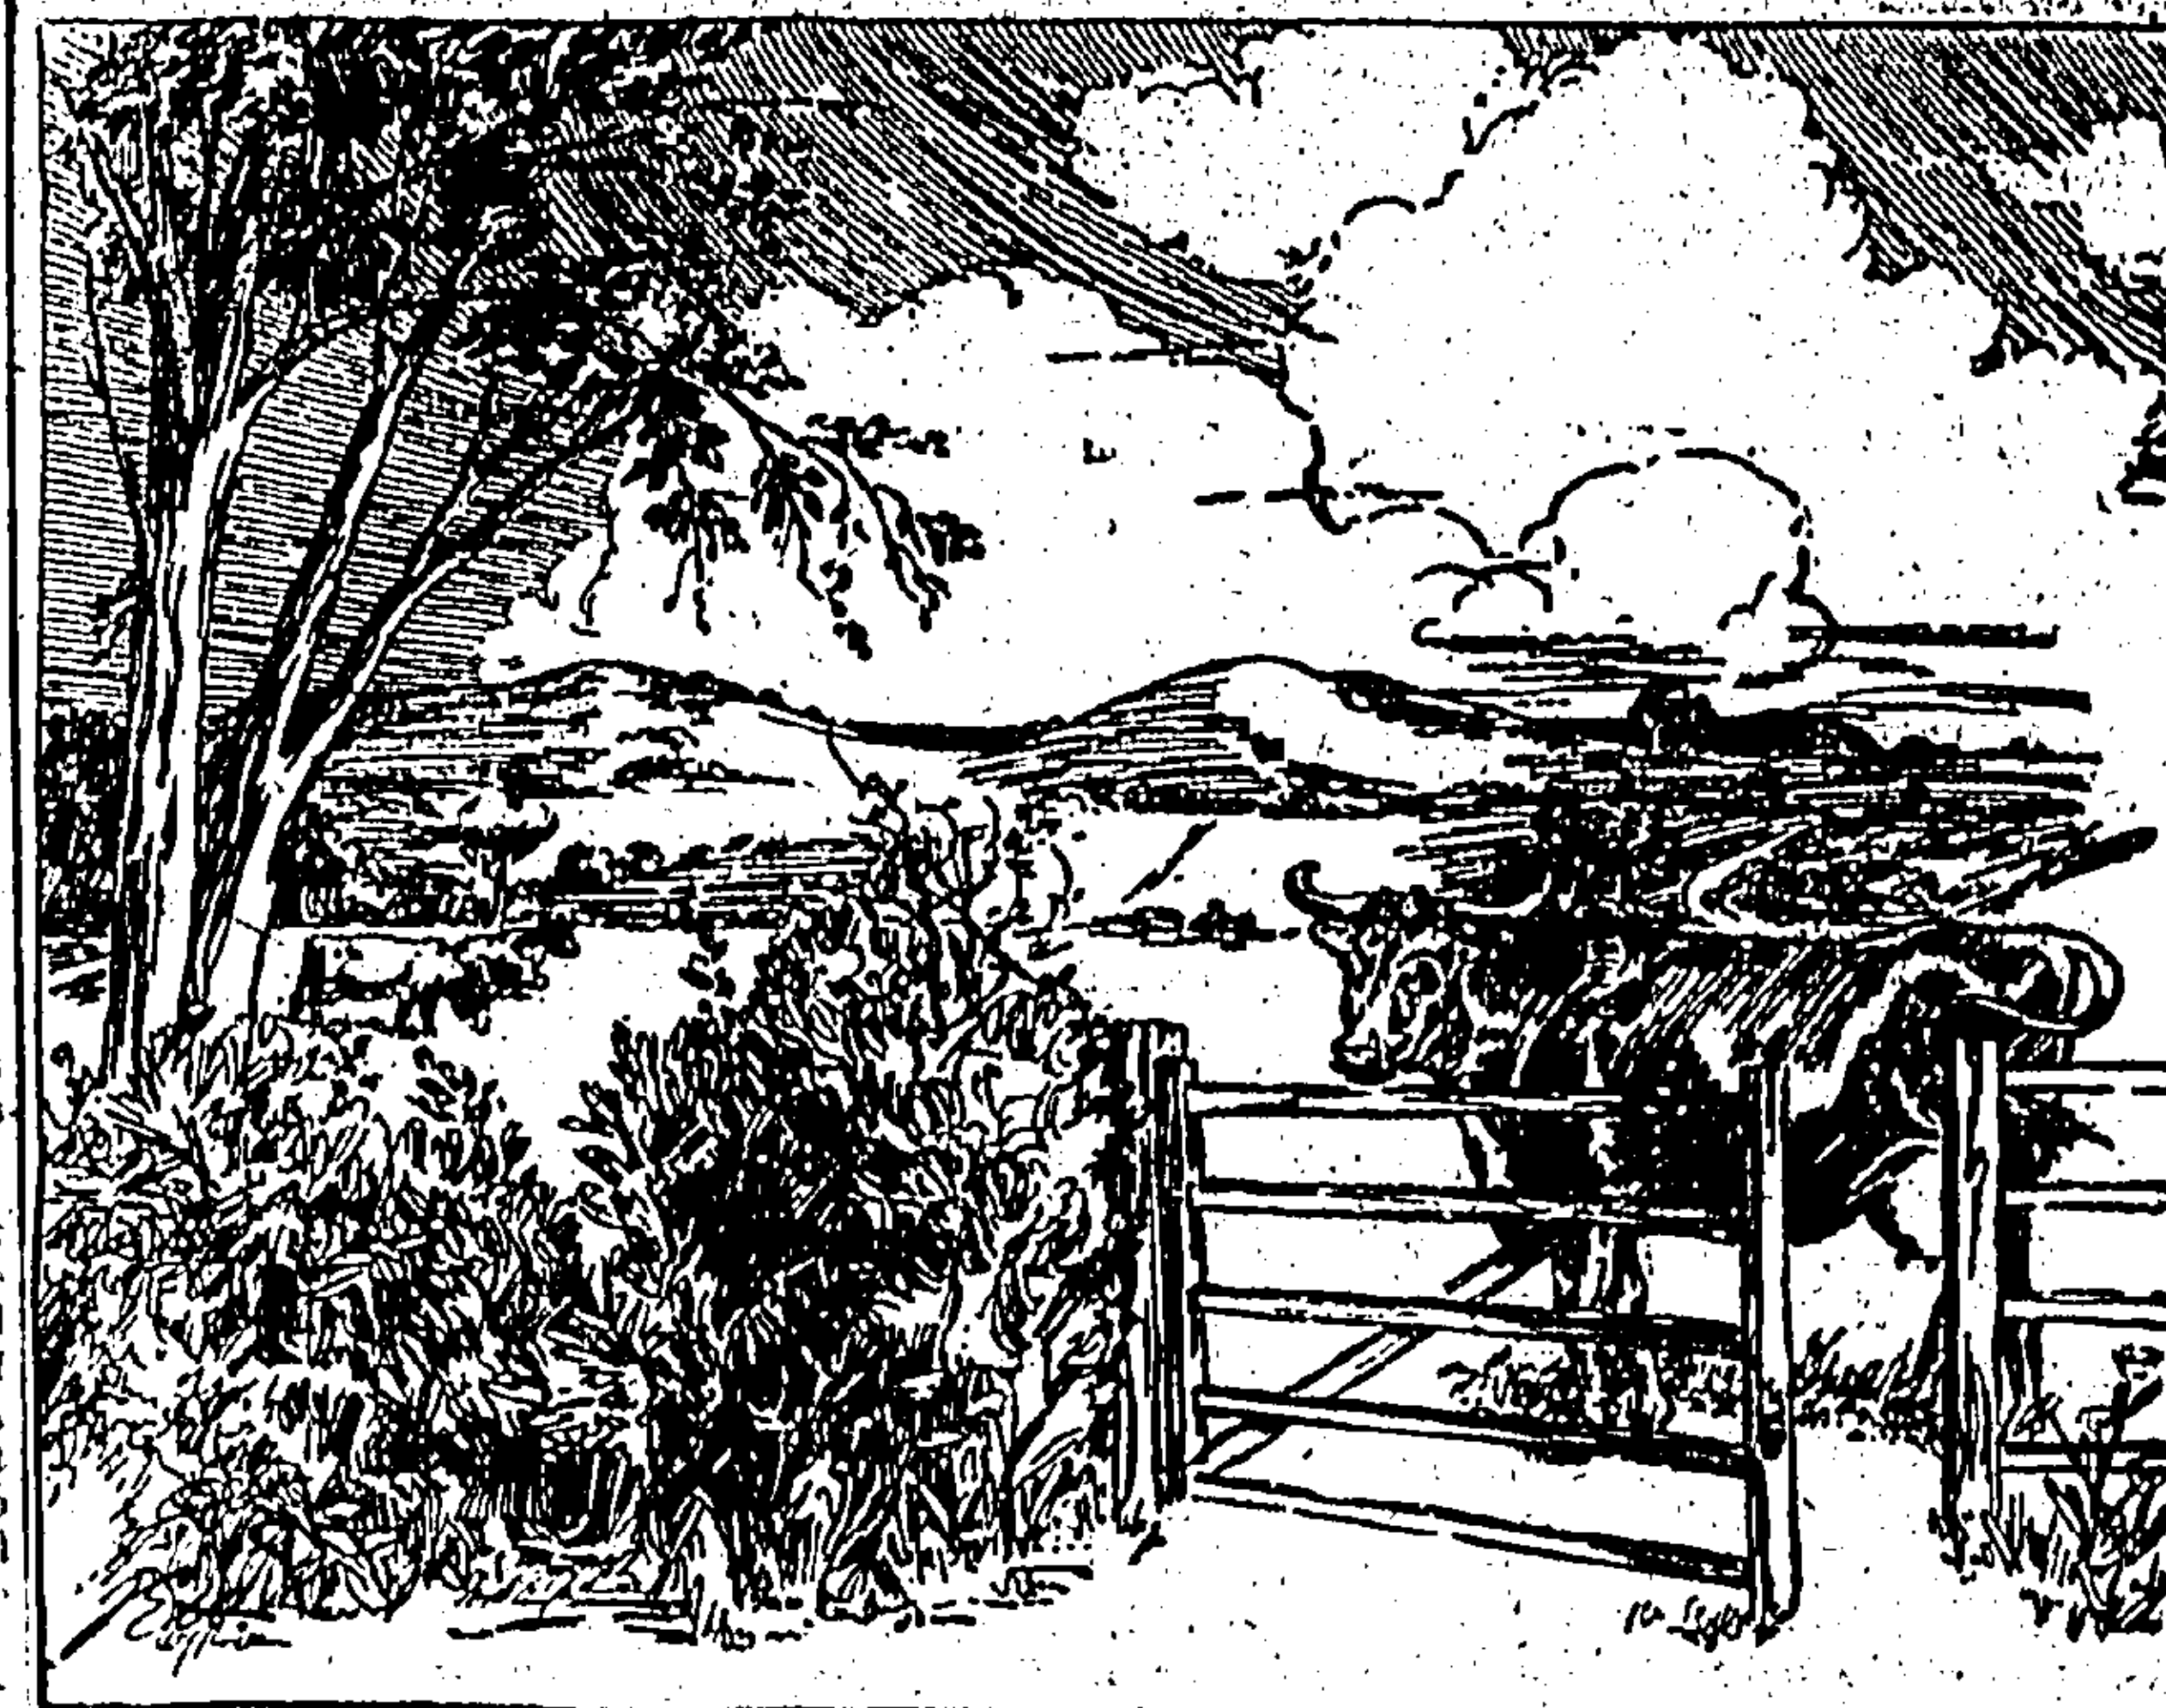

A meeting of the Joint Committee formed of representatives of the Hongkong General and the Chinese Chambers of Commerce will take place this afternoon, when the question of whether Hongkong should participate in the Empire Exhibition when it reopens next year will probably be discussed. The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce room.

We understand a telegram has been received from the London Committee acting for Hongkong, asking whether the Colony will again be represented next year. It states that the services of the Hon. Mr. E. R. Hallifax (the Commissioner) and Mr. G. Duncan, of the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company will be available, if it is decided to reopen the Hongkong Section.

wages and was on the premises best part of the time. He could only have acted in this way if he was a partner.

In conclusion he said the evidence was so strongly opposed that it was extremely difficult to shape a case on either side.

His Honour in rendering his decision said that there appeared to be little other than the "partner book" and the book recording sundry small payments to connect defendant with the firm. He had no difficulty in dismissing the first, but the second had given him a little thought. He was however now satisfied that it was nothing more than a petty cash book in which all sorts of people were entered as they drew monies. Verdict would be for defendant with costs on the higher scale.

PIRACY PREVENTION.

GOVERNMENT'S INTENTION

The convey system introduced over a year ago to protect river steamers and check pirates, which at one time constituted a real menace to shipping, has proved a success, as evidenced by the welcome full in the activities of pirates. The comparatively long immunity of ships from piratical attacks has apparently led the Government to consider whether the system should be continued, for early in October letters were sent to various companies owning ships on the Hongkong-Canton run, intimating that the Government proposed to abandon the convey system, unless the shipowners saw any grounds for its continuation. We understand that no combined action was taken by the shipowners, who considered the proposal independently. The nature of their replies to the Government can only be imagined from the contents of a further letter from the Colonial Secretary, which was to the effect that the system would be maintained and enforced. This letter was sent at the end of October.

In view of the foregoing, more than ordinary interest was aroused by the recent appointment of a Committee to consider "anti-piracy measures." In this Committee both foreign and Chinese shipowners are represented. It is expected that the first meeting of this Committee will take place shortly.

The function will take place in the middle of December at the Hongkong Hotel. The hosts number about ninety, including the Hon. Mr. Chow Shou-sun, Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall and Messrs. Chau Siu-ki, T. DOCTOR'S
ADVENTURES.ABDUCTED TO NEW TERRITORIES.

A doctor's adventures in the New Territories with six robbers, and his being found by a house boy sleeping on the verandah of a European resident's house, the following morning, were reported to the police on Wednesday, when he was taken to the police station after his discovery at the house.

It appears that Fung Shiu-ling, practising at No. 40 Lai-chikok Road, Shamshui, was on his way from the Sincere Company's at 3 p.m. on Wednesday when he was accosted by three men in Shanghai Street. Revolvers were produced and pointed at the doctor. Three other men arrived and the party ordered him into a motor car, the number of which has not yet been traced by the police, and the driver was ordered to proceed to Shatin. On their arrival at the 14th mile-stone the party alighted and continued their journey on foot for two or three hours. The doctor became fatigued and told the men that he could not walk any further. Their only reply was to strike him until he lost consciousness. When he regained consciousness again he found that it was dark and his assailants had disappeared with $53 which they extracted from his pockets. He had no alternative but to seek shelter for the night and this he did by wandering till he came to the nearest house, which happened to be the residence of Mr. Pope. He crept on to the verandah, where he was found the next morning. It is believed that this particular gang of robbers are responsible for the kidnapping of other persons. No arrests have yet been made.

STEAMER AGROUND.

IN THE WEST RIVER.

News has been received of the grounding of the s.s. Uwajima Maru about 12 miles below Kowloon on the West River.

She was flying signals asking for protection when last seen and vessels passing up river transmitted the message to the patrol boats, so it is presumed she is safe.

The Uwajima Maru is a vessel of 633 tons, usually running from Hongkong to Tamsui and Keelung, owned and operated by the Yamashita K. K. and commanded by Captain S. Katayama.

Mr. Lloyd George, at Brighton, dilating about the advantage of Free Trade, inquired, "Why is it that this little England of ours has more flourishing watering places than any other country?" "Because it has more water," was the unanswerable reply from the body of the hall.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

THE EGYPTIAN CRISIS.

London, Nov. 27. The French colony in Egypt has requested its diplomatic representative at Cairo to convey gratification to the French Government at the strong measures taken by the British authorities for the protection of foreign nationals.

Cairo, Nov. 27. M. Ahmed Zaki, the Egyptian Minister at Rome, has declined the portfolio of Foreign Affairs in the new Cabinet.

Khartoum, Nov. 27. A communique reports that the general situation in the Sudan is quiet. King Faisal has issued instructions to the Egyptian army in the Sudan to obey the orders of the acting General Governor and to withdraw there. This accords with the requirement laid down in the British note.

Cairo, Nov. 27. Dramatic arrests were carried out by the British military authorities at night time of three prominent Zaghluists, who were surprised whilst abed and removed to an unknown destination. The persons arrested are M. Nakrashi, the ex-Under-Secretary of Interior, M. Abdelrahman Fahmy who was imprisoned in 1921 in connection with a conspiracy case and subsequently released when Zaghlu took office, and Mr. William Makramobeld, a prominent Coptic landowner who was recently in London with Zaghlu Pasha.—Reuter.

FRENCH COMMANDER IN AFRICA REMOVED.

Paris, Nov. 27. Rear Admiral Exelmans, French Commander-in-Chief in north Africa, has been superseded by Vice-Admiral Jehenne. It is reported that this action was taken on the ground of refusing to receive the Soviet mission en route to Bizerta to take possession of General Wrangel's fleet which Wrangel had handed over to the French Government in part payment for advances made to him by France, but which M. Herriot's Government surrendered to the Soviet. Rear-Admiral Exelmans's refusal is said to be due to his opinion that the arrival of the Soviet mission would intensify Communist agitation which was being conducted in Tunis with the object of inciting native insurrection.

Moscow, Nov. 27. M. Krassin has gone to France to take up the Ambassadorship.—Reuter.

TERRIBLE STORM ON CASPIAN SEA.

Moscow, Nov. 27. The fiercest storms are raging on the Caspian sea. Thousands of fishing vessels are adrift and over a thousand have been salvaged. Hundreds of others are wedged in the ice. It is reported that 125 boats have been sunk and 48 fishermen drowned. A special expedition has been sent to assist the victims.—Reuter.

THE AMERICAN CABINET.

Washington, Nov. 27. The Vice-President, General Dawes, has declined President Coolidge's offer to accept a Cabinet portfolio, in accordance with the precedent created by the late President Harding.—Reuter's American Service.

"THE MARTYR QUEEN"

(Over 10,000 feet of interesting scenes.)

The story commences at the period when the young princess Marie Antoinette came from the court of Vienna to become the wife of the Dauphin of France. It shows how her husband's indifference induced her life to gaiety and extravagance; how her domestic affections were aroused by the illness of her eldest son; her devotion and courage when the king and his family were made prisoners; and concludes with her trial and death on the scaffold.

Of the many elaborate film reproductions of the French Revolution which have been submitted to the public within recent years, this production is the most notable, the gorgeousness, the endowments and sheer artistry in direction baffled description. It is a picture that is incomparable from many angles of production. Its tenderness, beauty of thought and treatment, its tremendous soul-crushing theme and magnificent character portrayal will stir spectators as they have never been moved before.

MORE WORLD TOURISTS.Liner Belgenland Coming.

The largest steamship ever to circle the globe will set out from New York on December 4 for a voyage westward around the world, that will take her over 30,000 miles of sea. This is the Belgenland, of the Red Star Line, registering 27,200 tons.

On the ship will be 500 well-to-do Americans, including people from all sections of America, who will have paid in the aggregate considerably more than a million dollars for their fares. Tickets will cost anywhere from $2,000 to $35,000 each, according to accommodation occupied.

"A good many tickets are being sold at $2,000 each," said a representative of the Red Star Line, who recently visited New York State steamship agents, "and at that rate travelling around the world is cheaper than staying at home, if your standard of living at home is the same as it will be on the Belgenland. The cruise will last 133 days and $2,000 represents about $15 a day—a reasonable rate for transportation, with food and lodging thrown in."

The Belgenland is the most advanced type of cruising ship. She has three veranda cafes, two gymnasiums, a dance hall, three electric elevators, a swimming pool, Turkish baths, a deck tennis court and all the other luxuries of the modern liner, with broad decks designed for lounging, sports and dancing. Her crew numbers 700, and she has a chef from a fashionable European hotel, the Savoy at London. Dining room service is entirely à la carte.

The itinerary to be allowed on the cruise and side trips includes fourteen countries and sixty cities. Cuba, the Panama Canal, Hawaii, Japan, China, the Philippines, Java, Straits Settlements, Ceylon, India, Egypt, the Holy Land, Italy, Monaco and Gibraltar are on the route to be followed.

SONG OF THE WATER LILIES.

Flowers or faces, leaves or dresses,—these or those?

Are they cheeks or lily-petals,—touched with rose?

Are they leaves or leaf-green skirts of floating gauze,

Intermingled on the water?—Now, because

Song and laughter from the laughing lake arise.

Hearing comes to reinforce my dazzled eyes.

Now I see the girls of You and of Ou,

And the lovely ladies of the King of Thsou

Play among the water-lilies, culling flowers,

Laughing, splashing dancing ripples into showers;

When they come the water-lilies raise their heads,

When they go the moon conducts them to their beds,—I. C. in E.

JAPANESE OIL TANK BOATS.

The Nagasaki Municipal authorities are contemplating the construction of oil-tank boats in order to facilitate the supply of oil fuel to steamers visiting the port and to encourage others to do so for the purpose of taking oil. It was at first proposed to construct tanks ashore for the purpose, but owing to some difficulties it is now suggested that two tank boats of 400 tons each should be built, the total cost being estimated at Y. 75,000.

TWO-MINUTE TALKS A Daily Tonic By ROBERT POWER

DOWNHILL.

"Yes," said the traveller, "The road was very easy. It's been downhill nearly all the way. 'Ah, yes,' agreed the Old Inhabitant. 'But you see you've taken the wrong turning. You are several miles away from your destination.'"

A wrong road is often an easy one. A downhill one is almost always attractive. You make such progress with a minimum of effort. Coming in the opposite direction are the toilers who are facing the uphill climb. What slow progress they make; how some of them are quite puffed out. Stop a moment! Are they going the right way and you the wrong. Easy walking many not mean direct progress.

"There is a way which seemeth right unto a man." It doesn't say that it bristles with what Bunyan called the "alarms for the conscience." It is perhaps just a gentle downward slope, so gradual that we hardly realise the gradient. That is the deceptiveness of the way which "seemeth right." Until you are at the bottom, or reach the spot where you know full well that the steps must be retraced, you have not noticed how gradual has been the downward trend.

But—to retrace you must go uphill. That is what calls for grit and perseverance. Downwards was easy travelling. "I can now, I can never entirely blot out the past." Distrust the downward road. Think where it leads to. Be cautious of that fast progress which is so pleasant and calls for so little effort. If it is the wrong road, turn round while there is time and retrace your steps.

SUNDAY CARGO.

"FATSHAN'S" CAPTAIN FINED.

A fine of $100 was imposed on Capt. R. Ritchie, the master of the s.s. Fatshan, at the Marine Court this morning, when he was summoned for working cargo on Sunday without a permit. He pleaded not guilty.

Inspector Bond said he noticed barrels seen round with sacking being lowered into a junk on the port side of the Fatshan. He went on board and spoke to the Chief Officer, who came down to see what was going on. He told witness that the barrels were not on the ship's manifest.

The Chief Officer said he had just returned from shore when Inspector Bond drew his attention to the fact that cargo was being discharged from the port side into a junk. The cargo was not on the manifest.

Captain Ritchie said he thought there must be some misunderstanding as to the nature of the cargo which could be discharged in port on Sunday. The com-pradore had informed him that he had discharged cargo of the same description for the past fifteen years without being prosecuted. The cargo was, according to the com-pradore, vegetables and was perishable.

The Harbour Master ordered that a copy of the case should be sent to the Superintendent of Imports and Exports for information.

SALMON PLENTIFUL.

British Columbia canners will have a bumper crop of canned salmon this year. Already 1,350,000 cases have been packed, and a low estimate puts the aggregate returns from the canneries this year at 1,500,000 cases. Large shipments of the new pack continue to move out on every steamer for England.

ARMS TRAFFIC.

HEAVY FINES IMPOSED.

A Chinese passenger from the Empress of Australia, arrested for being in possession of one revolver and 50 rounds of ammunition contained in the false bottom of a pail, appeared before Mr. N. L. Smith, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, charged with unlawful possession.

Defendant denied possession and also stated that the basket in which the arms were found was not his.

Giving evidence, a Chinese detective said he observed a basket on board the Empress of Australia when he boarded the vessel yesterday morning. Witness enquired for the owner and the defendant claimed the basket, which, when opened, was found to contain a pail with a revolver and 50 rounds of ammunition concealed in the false bottom.

After further evidence, his Worship convicted and fined the defendant $250, or six weeks' hard labour.

CONCEALED IN A CLOCK.

That he was formerly a police officer in Canton, held a certificate to carry a revolver in Chinese territory and did not know that it was necessary to obtain a further permit from the Captain Superintendent of Police in Hongkong, was the defence of Li Ka-po, who pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of one revolver and 72 rounds of ammunition, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

Defendant was arrested on board the s.s. Taiming prior to her departure from the Colony yesterday. The arms and ammunition were concealed in a clock, the machinery of which had been removed.

In answer to his Worship defendant said that he was returning to his country and it was necessary to pass through Hongkong.

Inspector Angus said he did not doubt the defendant's story, but it was a very strange way to bring the arms through.

His Worship inflicted a fine of $250, with the alternative of six weeks' hard labour.

700 ROUNDS SEIZED.

An order for the confiscation of 700 rounds of ammunition was made by Mr. N. L. Smith, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

Regent Simpson, who made the application, stated that the ammunition was found in one of the boys' empty lockers on board the s.s. President Lincoln on the 18th inst.

CIVIL WAR.—First picture of the civil warfare in Cuba to arrive here. It was taken at the western station of Cuba Railroad at Camaguey when a crowd gathered to wait the arrival of General Menocal. Conservatives point to the women in this photograph to prove they did not plan any fighting, that if they had they would not have exposed their women folk.

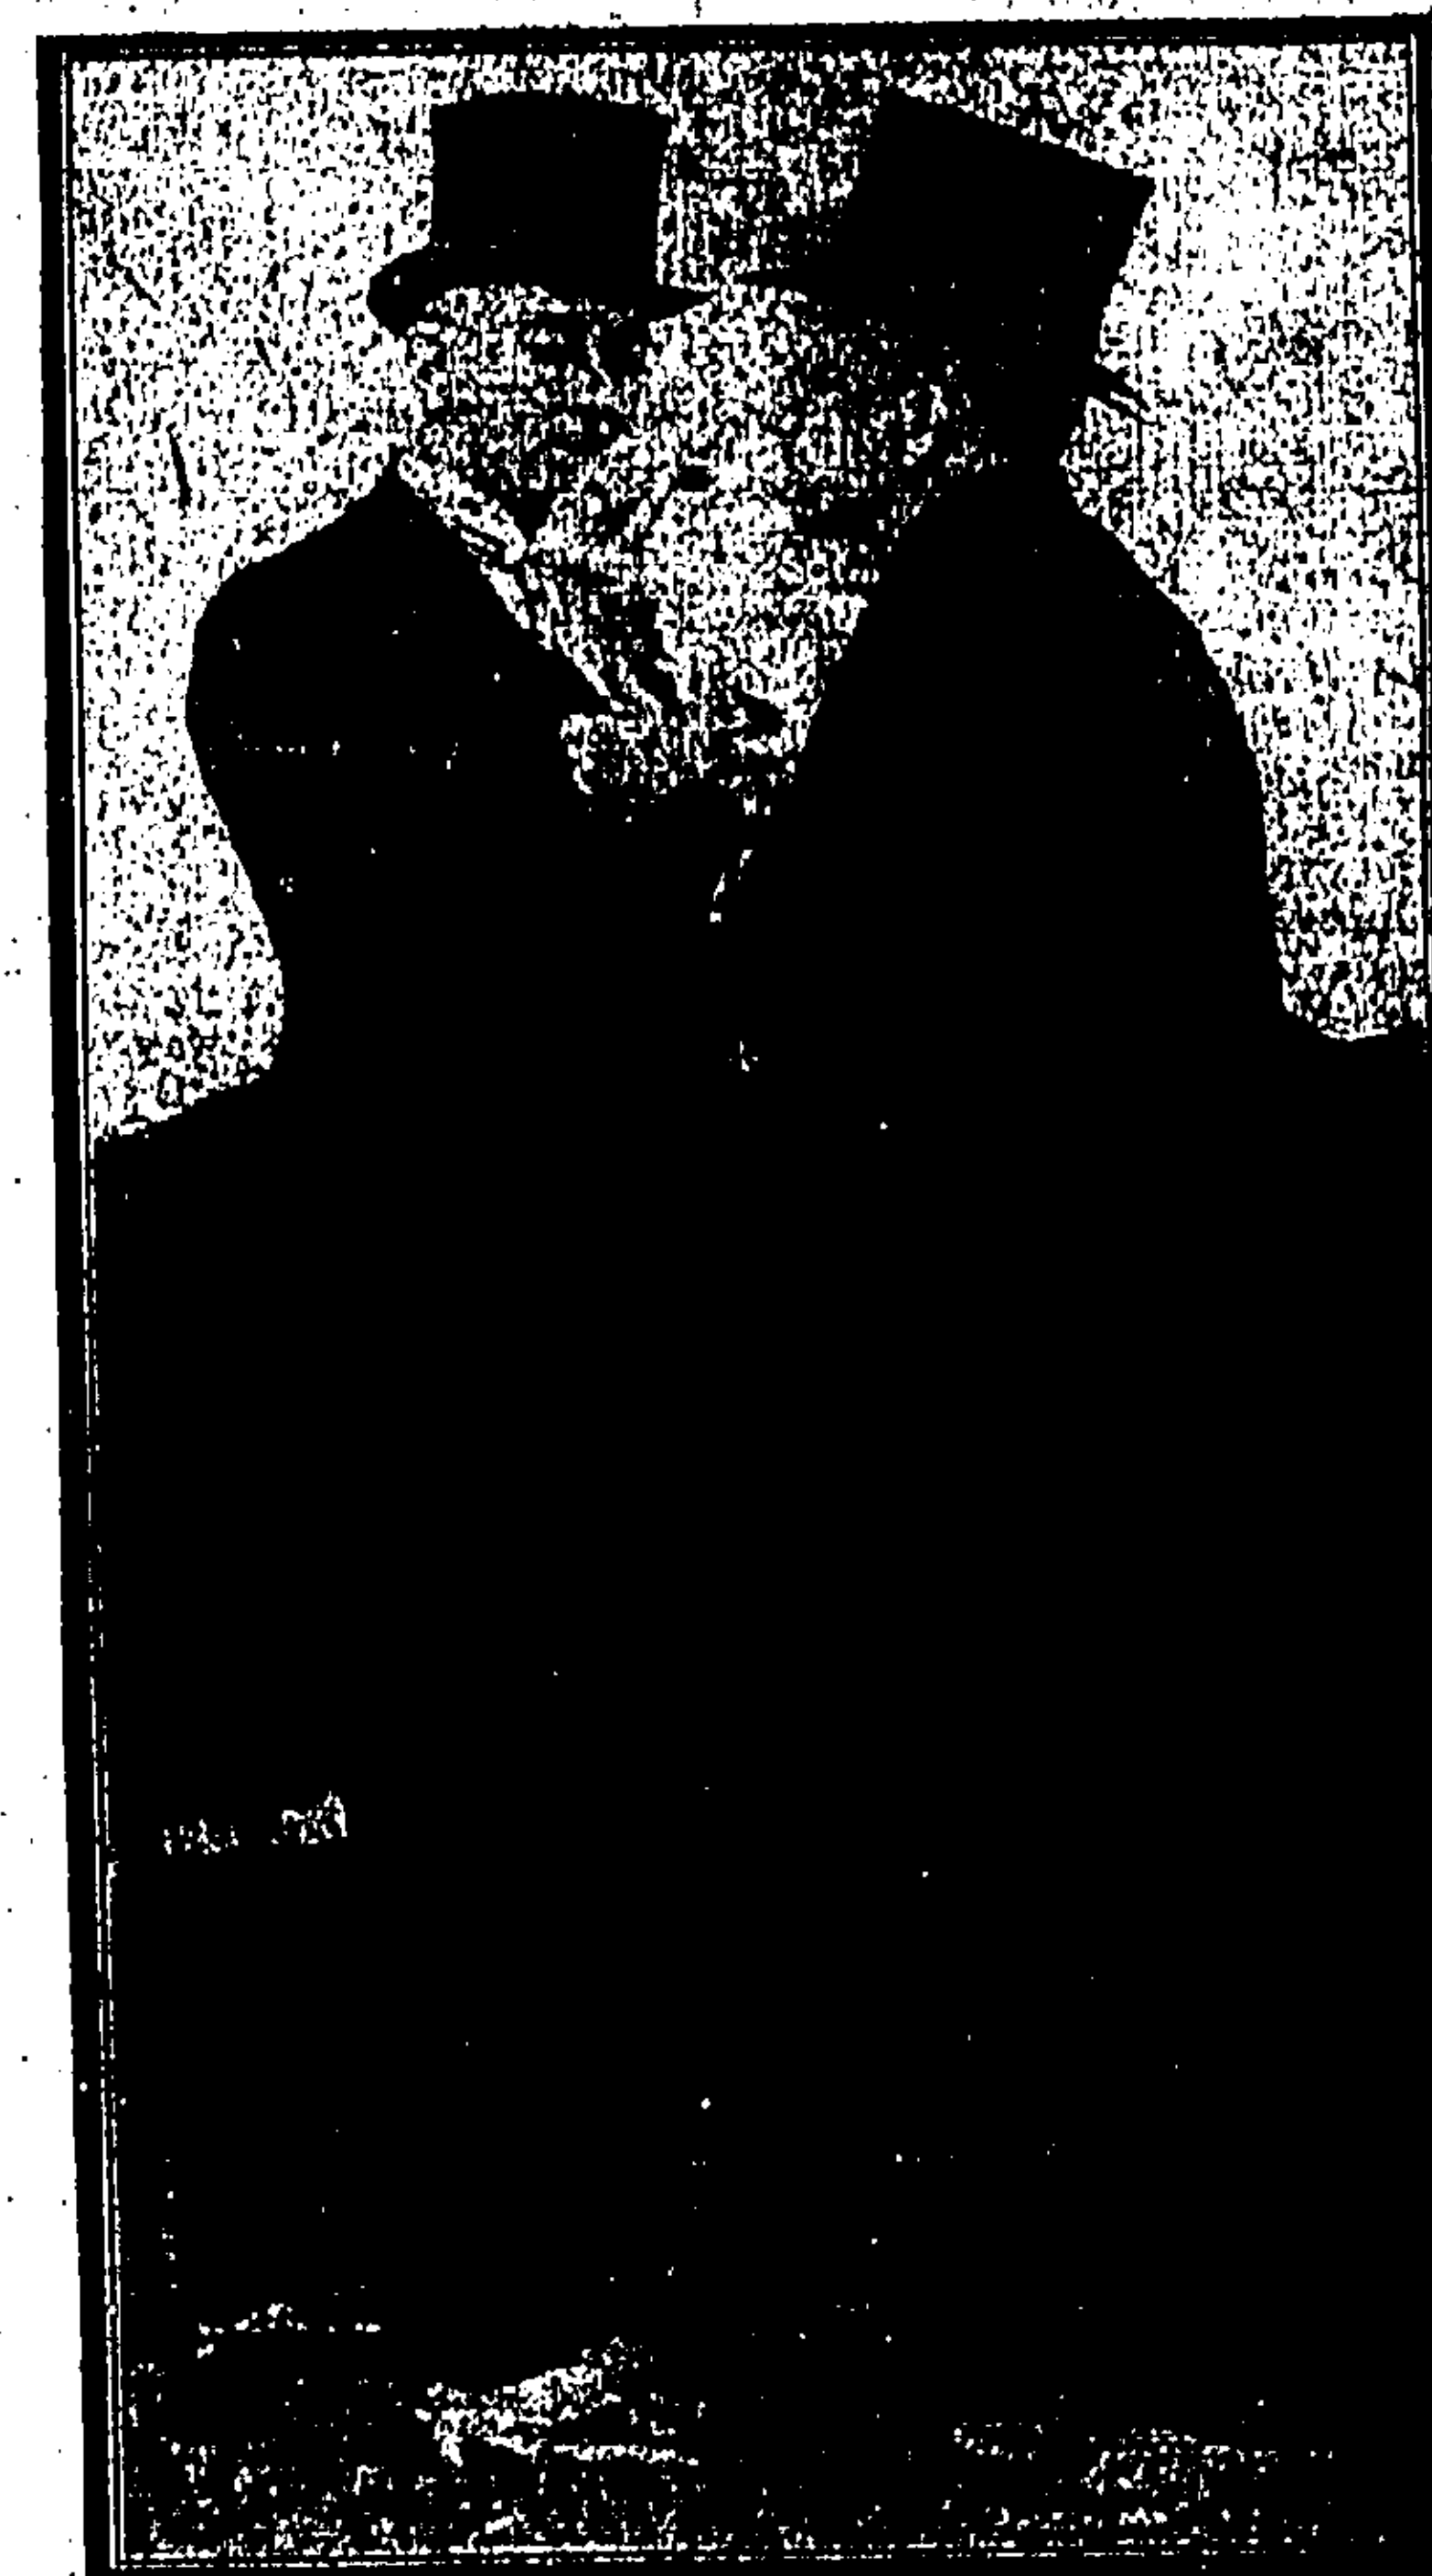

WOMEN SOLDIERS.—This picture shows three girls of Camaguey dressed as "libertadoras"—soldiers of freedom—who marched in the parade for Menocal. The girl indicated by arrow was killed by a stray bullet. By a peculiar coincidence she was dressed as "Cuba," representing the Republic in the demonstration.

PRIMITIVE METHODS.—This Chinese turning-lathe, a simple wooden machine, is operated by both feet and hands. The piece to be turned is revolved by the "fiddle-bow" string wrapped around it. Except in rare instances, the country Chinese do not take kindly to the up-to-date labour-saving devices Europeans have introduced into China.

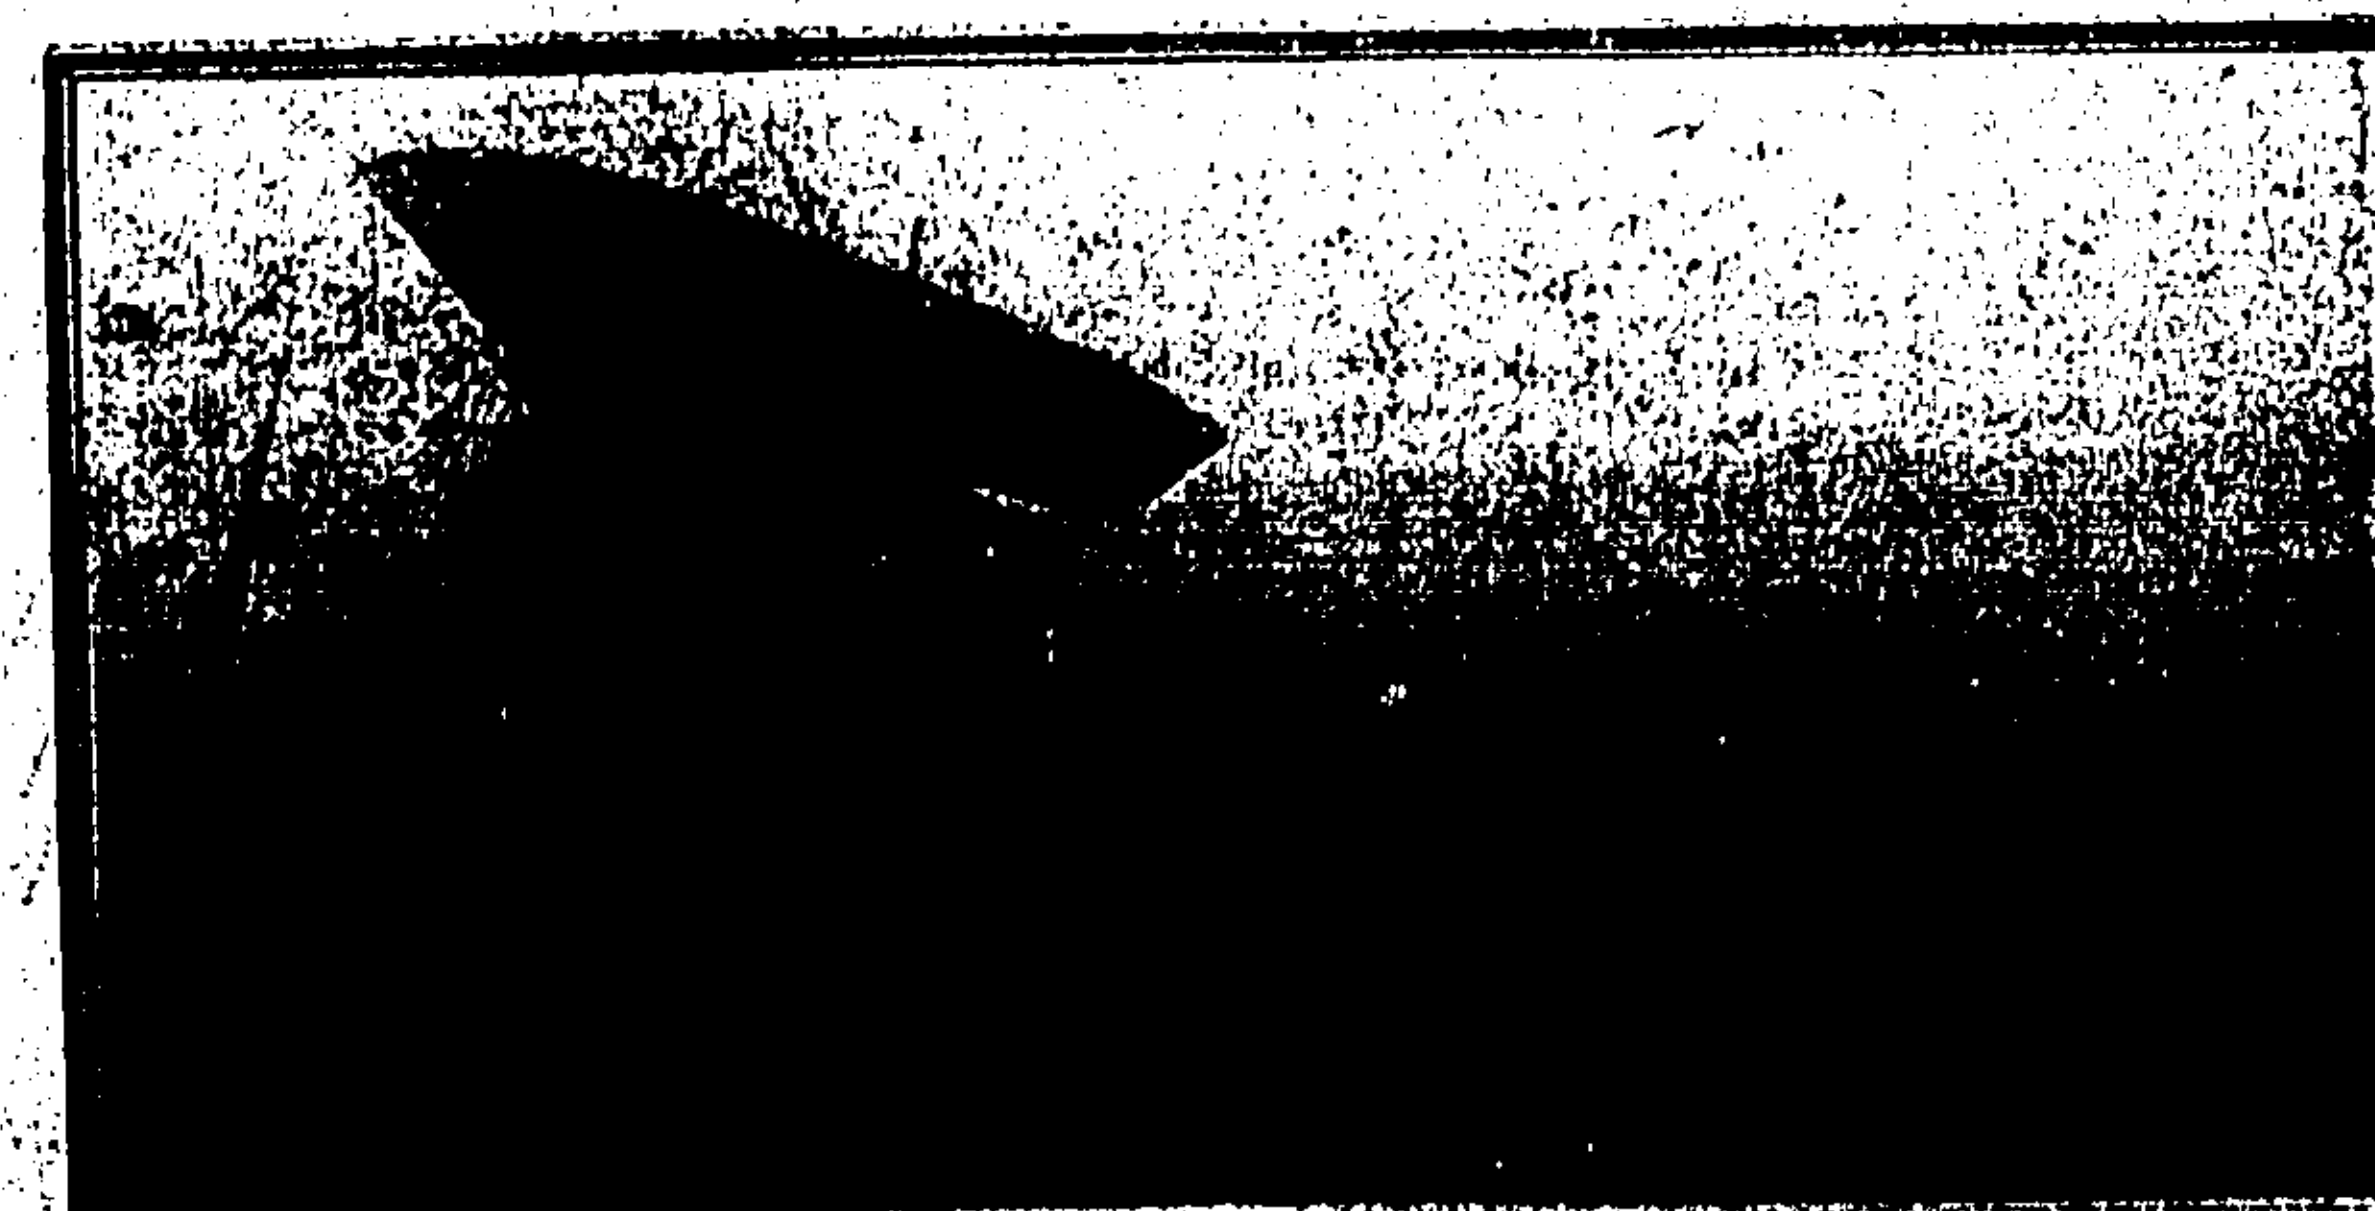

IN THE ZR-3.—Lunch being served in the main cabin of the ZR-3, the giant dirigible which recently flew from Germany to the United States.

AFTER THE PARADE.—This refreshing snapshot was taken after the parade of Shanghai's defence forces at the Race Course, and shows Mr. E. S. Benbow Rowe, Acting Secretary of the Council, and Mr. P. L. Knight, a member of the Municipal Council.

LONG TRIP.—When George H. G. Smyth arrived in New York in his canoe he had paddled 1350 miles in 43 days on the water from Sydney, Nova Scotia. He intends to go to London and then paddle his canoe to Rome.

MARSHAL CHANG'S PLANE.—This is the biplane of Marshal Chang, used in the recent war. It has an 80 h.p. engine and a top speed of 110 miles per hour.

NATURE RESERVES.

Society's Work in 1923-24

The annual report of the British Society for the Promotion of Nature Reserves for the year 1923-24, which is issued as part of the society's handbook, refers to the great loss sustained by the society through the death of the Hon. N. Charles Rothschild, who bequeathed to the society £5,000, which has been invested, and will bring in an annual income of about £255. The vacancy on the council caused by his death has been filled by the election of Lord Rothschild.

The bequest to the society (alternatively with the National Trust) of Ray Island, Mersea, Essex by the late Mr. N. Charles Rothschild is now under consideration. The sum of £100 promised by the society towards the purchase of the Farne Islands by the Farne Islands Association for the National Trust has been paid, and the purchase has been completed.

It is reported that Shropham Moor, plot, near Glastonbury, Somerset, consisting of an acre and a half, chiefly peat-bog, has been conveyed to the society, the purchase-money having been raised by a local fund. The property is under the management of a local committee. Satisfactory reports have been received with regard to the Metropolitan Water Board's reservoirs, where wild life is now automatically protected, and the Baginbun Sewage Farm, Coventry, which has been secured as a bird sanctuary under the Coventry City Council.

The report also states that Frances Countess of Warwick has offered about 1,000 acres of the property of Easton Lodge, Dunmow, as a nature reserve, the society to be responsible for expenses to the extent of £38 per annum. Mr. Meade-Waldo and the Hon. F. R. Henley (hon. secretaries) have visited the estate and reported on its suitability as a reserve.

Correspondence has taken place with regard to the proposed development of Poole Harbour, Dorset. A motor road is to be constructed between Bournemouth and Studland, and it has been suggested that an effort should be made to secure some part of the district as a reserve before it is too late. It is situated not far from Ballard Down, an area marked as of special importance in the society's schedule of areas.
